A functional state requires effective public governance. In an increasingly interconnected and digitalised world, public sector professionals face unique challenges. To provide the critical skills they require, the Swiss School of Public Governance (SSPG) offers two continuing education programmes – one addressed to a Swiss, the other to an international audience.

A network of public governance researchers and practitioners is to be established in cooperation with other universities, NGOs and federal offices. In addition, research is to be carried out at the SSPG by visiting professors and postdocs focusing on areas such as promotion of democracy, governance technologies and conflict analysis.
