

“With our support we want to make sure ETH has the scope to research the latest, most exciting topics”

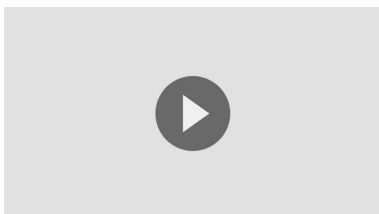

Moritz Lechner and Felix Mayer met at ETH Zurich - playing cards during lecture breaks. They finished their doctorates in physics at ETH and subsequently founded Sensirion. Today, they serve as Co-Chairmen of the Board of Directors.

© ETH Foundation / Roland Lanz 22 February 2023

In 1998, ETH alumni Moritz Lechner and Felix Mayer jointly founded Sensirion, now one of the world's leading manufacturers of sensor solutions. In the video, they talk about why they support ETH philanthropically.

Video

Support entrepreneurship

About Sensirion

<https://ethz-foundation.ch/en/spotlight/awc-video-portrait-felix-maxer-moritz-lechner/>

PDF exported on 06/19/2026 01:10

© 2026 ETH Zurich Foundation